

COE Architecture International, an award-winning design firm specializing in large mixed-use and high density urban-infill multi-family projects, is seeking highly motivated personnel for the following key positions:

Job Titles:

Senior Project Architect/Project Manager (full-time position with benefits)

Firm Name:

COE Architecture International

Location:

Los Angeles, CA

Firm Profile:

available for view at www.coearchitecture.com

Salary Range:

Commensurate with experience

Senior Project Architect/Project Manager Job Description:

Senior Project Architect/Project Manager with a design background and a minimum of 10-15 years production and management experience in Type III and Type V residential buildings. (Must meet this requirement.) Individual must be well organized, have strong time management skills, be able to manage a project team as well as produce own work, be willing to take responsibility, and be able to multi-task and function well individually and in a team environment. Successful candidate will be involved in Design, Construction Documents, Plan Check, Construction Administration and must willing to contribute to any other project related tasks as required.

Senior Project Architect/Project Manager Candidate requirements:

- Minimum of 10-15 years experience with Type V and Type III multi-family residential construction and production of construction drawings for these project types, as well as CA experience
- Proficiency with AutoCAD, and possibly Revit
- Thorough knowledge of applicable and updated building codes and ADA and HUD housing requirements
- Experience managing project team
- Proof of US citizenship or authorization to work in the United States

NOTE: Only those candidates meeting the above criteria need apply.

Please submit resume, sample of work and salary requirements ONLY by email to info@coearchitecture.com. No telephone calls permitted. Candidates chosen for an interview must bring recent design and production samples as applicable to position.