

Designer (Newport Beach, CA)

Bickel Group Architecture in Newport Beach is currently seeking a talented and motivated Designer with 0-5 years of experience to join our innovative and fast-paced team. We are a collaborative group currently working on an exciting list of projects including commercial, automotive, restaurant, retail, institutional, and adaptive reuse sites around California and the western United States.

Position Requirements: We are looking for someone to join our team that is passionate about design, works well both as part of a team and independently, is organized and motivated, and takes pride in their work. You would be working with principals and management directly to quickly generate concept sketches and help bring ideas to life. Tasks would include sketching and modeling to develop architectural facades and renderings, site plans, 2D and 3D presentation exhibits, and Photoshop work as well as feasibility studies. Bachelor's degree in Art or Design, excellent communication skills, and effective problem solving abilities are desired.

About Bickel Group: With over 24 years of experience, Bickel Group is an award-winning architecture firm with an extensive portfolio of project types and clients. We value cooperation and support training, personal responsibility, and professional development. Please see our work at www.bickelgrp.com.

Benefits: As part of our compensation package, Bickel Group covers 100% of medical and dental insurance costs for our employees. We also offer a retirement savings matching program.

Submission Instructions: Please email resumes and selected work samples including hand sketching to Tonya Fleshman at hr@bickelgrp.com. Please send PDF-format files only.
