

JOB CAPTAIN (Newport Beach, CA)

Bickel Group Architecture in Newport Beach is currently seeking a talented and motivated Job Captain with 3-10 years of experience to join our innovative and fast-paced team. We are a collaborative group currently working on an exciting list of projects including commercial, automotive, restaurant, retail, institutional, and adaptive reuse sites around California and the western United States.

Position Requirements: We are looking for someone to join our team that is passionate about architecture, works well both as part of a team and independently, is organized and motivated, and takes pride in their work. You will be involved in multiple project phases from initial site assessment and feasibility, to entitlement procurement and construction documents. A working knowledge of CBC, including being proficient in performing allowable area calculations is mandatory. Tasks will include site studies, site plan feasibility sketches, filling out submittal applications, reviewing plans with clients, collaborating with consulting engineers, submitting plans for agency review, and general AutoCAD drafting. Bachelor's degree in Architecture, working toward licensure, excellent written and verbal communication skills, and effective problem solving abilities are required.

About Bickel Group: With over 22 years of experience, Bickel Group is an award-winning firm with an extensive portfolio of project types and clients. We value cooperation and support training, personal responsibility, and professional development. Please see our work at www.bickelgrp.com.

Benefits: As part of our compensation package, Bickel Group covers 100% of medical and dental insurance costs for our employees. We also offer a retirement savings matching program.

Submission Instructions: Please email resumes and selected work samples including hand sketching to Tonya Fleshman at hr@bickelgrp.com. Please send PDF-format files only.
